

SCAM ALERT

YOUR REALLY NEED TO BE CAREFUL! I do quite a bit of advertising for my various properties. At about 5:00 this afternoon my regular contact at the Inquirer called me and asked if I needed to run my expiring ad again next week. I told her yes. She has my credit cards on file and knows which card to charge for which property. When I gave her the affirmative, I did not give her a credit card because she has what she needs.

I just had a call from someone at 7:30 this evening saying that my Master charge card, ending in such and such numbers, was declined and asked me for a new card. To make a long story short, it was a scam, and when I called back the number on my caller ID, it rang at Norristown State Hospital. I will speak to my gal at the Inquirer on Monday, but just BE CAREFUL!!

Thanks to Stan Daniel for this warning.

Reprinted courtesy of the Diversified Real Estate Investor Group. From the May 2013 issue of "The Diversified Investor." Visit www.digonline.org or call (215) 712-2525